Joel H. Schwartz, P.C.

Dear Mr. Steven Schwartz

It was my great pleasure to meet with you on October 9 in Boston. I really appreciate for your presentation and discussions for us. As Mr. Ohashi who was a member of our delegations mentioned that “We are exactly face to face with Mr. Ralph Nader in present”, all of our member were sympathized and impressed by your presentation. What we were impressed is not only the fact that you are the leading law firm in the field of personal Injury, but also your policy and principle to support your clients. We understood that your firm gives first priority of “Client support” rather than profit and gains while you are taking in advanced marketing process.

We, lawyers as members of Funai Consulting study group including 18 people at the meeting, have pursued our goal with aim of becoming lawyers capable of supporting not only legal procedure but also medical advices and mental supporting. On the other hand, it is really pity that there are lawyers who give first priority to advertisement and take less responsible for own conscience and effort to improve own skill as lawyers. We had been fed up with such commercialism. Therefore, we visited the U.S to look for an ideal lawyer who has high skill as well as warm hart. And finally, we fortunately met with you. We deeply understood that you have been supporting your client by your first priority and strongly impressed by your policy and principle. If I say more, we felt that it was supreme encounter across the Pacific Ocean. We were deeply sympathized by your word one by one.

I have to apologize for being rude that we had to invite you a restaurant and could not take enough gratitude because we could not have enough time. I would really appreciate if you could meet with me again in Boston or Japan to discuss for more detail for example, how Japanese lawyers act for the cases of car accident and personal injury, relationship among doctor, lawyers and insurance company and personal care problem of clients in Japan. We would really happy to invite you to Japan next year if you could accept our invitations.

I highly hope to keep in touch with you and I am really looking forward to seeing you again

With best regards,

Kyohei Deguchi
